

Fall Holiday Online Resources 2010

Rosh HaShanah, Yom Kippur,
Sukkot, Simhat Torah,
Labor Day
Commemorating September 11

1. Rabbis for Human Rights (RHR) High Holiday Resources

<http://www.rhr-na.org/story/high-holiday-resources-available-now>

RHR has updated their materials for 5771 with sample sermons and talking points about global human rights.

2. Babaganewz.com (Teacher and Student materials)

<http://www.babaganewz.com/tag/rosh-hashanah+holiday-resources/?teachers>

<http://www.babaganewz.com/tag/holiday-central/> (Student site)

BabagaNewz is an online resource for grades 4-7. The teacher section for holidays has links to full lesson plans and activities; the student site has a variety of online games and activities.

3. Frances-Henry Library at HUC/LA

<http://www.huc.edu/libraries/exhibits/highholidays/index.php>

<http://www.huc.edu/libraries/exhibits/sukkot/index.php>

The HUC library has compiled a list of resources for the High Holidays, Sukkot, Shemini Atzeret, and Simhat Torah. Check out their physical "real-life" display of materials, too!

4. Labor in the Pulpits / on the Bimah / in the Minbar

<http://www.iwj.org/index.cfm/labor-in-the-pulpits>

Celebrate the sacred link between faith, work, and justice. Invite a union member or labor leader to be a guest speaker on Labor Day weekend, or focus your Labor Day weekend service on worker justice issues. The site has new suggested resources from several faith perspectives.

5. Remembering September 11 on Shabbat Shuvah

<http://urj.org/worship/prayers/sept11/>

Shabbat Shuvah falls on September 11 this year.